APT WORLDWIDE SECURES REPRESENTATION OF DOCUMENTARY ABOUT SUSTAINABLE OCEANS

BOSTON (June 6, 2014) – APT Worldwide, the international sales division of distributor American Public Television, has secured the international representation rights to the television documentary Ocean Frontiers: The Dawn of a New Era in Ocean Stewardship (1x60). This high definition special explores innovative techniques for managing and protecting ocean resources. Produced by Green Fire Productions, Ocean Frontiers demonstrates how conservationists are applying principals of commerce and science to find solutions to protect the ocean while sustaining business. Featured in the one-hour special are stories which include efforts to save whales in the shipping lanes of Boston, a look at how both coral reefs and tourism are being preserved in the Florida Keys, solutions to stop agricultural runoff in the Mississippi Delta and how conservation has saved a salmon fishing community in the Pacific Northwest. Ocean Frontiers: The Dawn of a New Era in Ocean Stewardship won the Best Science Communication award at the Reel Earth Environmental Film Festival in 2012 and was an official selection in film festivals worldwide. It is the first film in the growing Ocean Frontiers series.
